

1 Port Powerline Home Network Adapter

Model# HPE210AVP

Just when you thought moving big files from one device to another would be a complicated and time-consuming task, Actiontec comes to your rescue. With the new Powerline Home Network Adapter, you can expand your current home network (using your already-installed power lines) and experience blinding transfer speeds, all at the same time! Now, you can transfer movies, or multiple songs, or any other large files, from one networked device to another, in minutes instead of hours, or seconds instead of minutes.

Speed, Speed, and More Speed

The first thing you'll notice about the Powerline Home Network Adapter is its speed. Hundreds of photos transfer from the computer in the den to the computer in the living room in a flash. A multi-gigabit movie file streams effortlessly from the kitchen to the bedroom.

"Top Secret" Grade Security

The Powerline Home Network Adapter also features 128-bit AES, which is a new type of security and the first available to the general public that's been approved by the U.S. government for classified, top-secret documents. AES security is so secure, few, if any, computers existing today can break its code. What this means, essentially, is that you can make all your files top-secret, for your eyes only, and never worry about outsiders snooping around your personal business.

Energy Efficient

Without compromising on performance, the 4 Port Powerline Home Network Adapter saves up to 60% energy for the user by switching to energy saving mode when no traffic is being moved.
